LITHUANIAN ARCHITECTS AWARD OVER 120 NEW BUILDINGS AND URBAN PLANNING PROJECTS FROM 41 NATIONS IN THIS YEAR’S 14TH EDITION OF THE 2019 INTERNATIONAL ARCHITECTURE AWARDS

Announcing the Oldest and Largest Global Awards Program Featuring the World’s Most Prominent Architecture Firms to be Officially Celebrated at “The City and the World” Exhibition in Athens, Greece with a Reception and Gala Dinner in front of the Acropolis on September 13

Founded in 2005, The International Architecture Awards, organized by The Chicago Athenaeum: Museum of Architecture and Design and The European Centre for Architecture Art Design and Urban Studies, is the oldest, annual public celebration of global architecture that sees practices around the world compete for the title of "Global Building of the Year."

The International Architecture Awards are the only non-commercial, global, and public awards program given jointly by two not-for-profit Museums in the United States and Europe dedicated to public education concerning architecture and industrial design.

The Awards are regarded internationally as the world's most important global mark of excellence, recognizing the best international architecture practices, as well as the hundreds of corporate clients, developers, state and local governments, institutions, and general contractors that produced them.

“Following a rigorous process from a record number of international submissions, this year’s 2019 shortlist of 350 projects,” states Christian Narkiewicz-Laine, Museum President, The Chicago Athenaeum, “highlights the amazing work done by the talented architecture visionaries whose talent and innovation have created talking points that will span generations.”

“The projects on the shortlist were judged against a range of criteria including design vision; innovation and originality; capacity to stimulate, engage and delight occupants and visitors; accessibility and sustainability; how fit the building is for its purpose and the level of client satisfaction.”

“Shaping the built environment is a tough challenge for anyone, and the architects and innovators here from across the architecture market have an important role to play in transforming the way we see the world.”

"I am delighted with this year’s selection and praise these dedicated firms and individuals and their hard work and their commitment to define a better world. Congratulations to all of this year's winners," adds Narkiewicz-Laine

This year’s selected buildings are from 41 nations including: Australia, Brazil, Canada, China, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hong Kong, India, Italy, Ireland, Israel, Japan, Kazakhstan, Kuwait, Malaysia, México, New Zealand, Norway, Puerto Rico, Portugal, Republic of Singapore, Russia, Saudi Arabia, Slovenia, Spain, South Africa, South Korea, Sweden, Switzerland, Taiwan, Thailand, The Faro Islands, The Netherlands, The Philippines, Vietnam, United Kingdom, and The United States.

“These 120 plus buildings are what the best, new architecture looks like today,” continues Narkiewicz-Laine.

The 2019 Jury for Awards was held at The Department of Architecture, Vilnius Gediminas Technical University, Vilnius, Lithuania and consisted of the following architects, critics, and architecture educators:
